HAIL TO THE REDSKINS!

This is the official song of the Redskins. Its lyrics were written by Corinne Griffith and the music by Barnes Breckin. It is published by Leo Feist, Inc. Sheet music and recordings are available. Inquire at Redskins office.

*HAIL TO THE REDSKINS, Hail Vic-to-ry,
Braves on the war-path, Fight for old D. C.
Scalp 'em, Swamp 'em, We will take 'em big score.
Read 'em, weep 'em, Touch-down we want heap more.
Fight on. Fight on till you have won.
Sons of Wash-ing-ton (Rah! Rah! Rah!)
HAIL TO THE REDSKINS, Hail Vic-to-ry.

A SECOND DECADE BEGINS

FOR the eleventh consecutive season, the American Oil Co., maker of AMOCO Products, will bring Redskins fans on-the-scene, play-by-play accounts of all home and road games over a vast AM and FM radio network from Maine to Florida, and on TV wherever possible.

The AMOCO-Redskins association thus continues to set an all-time high for the broadcasting industry. No other sportscast of this magnitude has enjoyed such consistency of performance.

For the call letters and wave length of the AM or FM station in your city carrying the Redskins game, turn to the inside back cover of this manual. Consult the schedule on the inside front cover for the kickoff times.

CHARITIES NET $1,350,000

IN NON-CONFERENCE games sponsored by leading newspapers and civic organizations throughout the United States, the Redskins have assisted in the raising of more than $1,350,000 for various charities. This does not include sums raised this year.

The Redskins' outstanding contribution has been in Los Angeles where the annual game sponsored by The Los Angeles Times has netted almost $600,000 for The Times' Boys Club.

A similar series in Baltimore, sponsored by the Variety Clubs of Washington and Baltimore, netted $125,000 for boys club activities.

During World War II, two Redskins games collected $122,369 for service relief funds. Another $300,000 has been raised in Denver, Birmingham, Dallas, Oklahoma City, Memphis, San Francisco and other cities.

Slingin' Sam — Mr. Football

He Wrote the Book . . .

IN A brochure like this, a team boasts about what it has to offer to the fans. For the first time in their history, the Redskins cannot boast that they have Sammy Baugh. The greatest player of all time retired last year after 16 consecutive seasons in the National Football League. But though he has gone, he has left behind a flaming tradition that will never be forgotten . . . and a stack of records that likely never will be broken.

Here they are:

MEL ALLEN

JIM GIBBONS

Meet the Men Who Describe the Redskins

AMERICAN
AMOCO GAS
on the AMOCO Radio and TV Networks

FOR its eleventh consecutive year of broadcasting the Washington Redskins games, the American Oil Company is keeping together the sportscasting team who turned in such an outstanding job last season.

Mel Allen, Amoco's chief sportscaster, has time and again received the Radio and TV Editors' award as "Number One Sportscaster" (the last award being given after his wonderful job for Amoco last year). For many years, he has been the Voice of the World Series in baseball, the Rose Bowl in football, and other top-flight sporting events. His graphic, accurate descriptions of last season's Redskins games won the approval of millions who heard him, and he is looking forward to the 1953 season as another great opportunity to call great football plays.

His team-mate, Jim Gibbons, needs no introduction to Redskins fans. For ten years, Jim has been the "color man" for all Redskins broadcasts, both on radio and television.

Together, they make America's finest football sportscasting team—and all during the season, under Amoco sponsorship, they'll bring you America's finest professional games—the games of the Washington Redskins.

All-Time Half-Time Champions

The Redskins' 110-Piece Marching Band

UNDEFEATED and untied since they started playing! That's the unmatched record of the Redskins Marching Band. An entirely volunteer organization, the 110-piece band has no equal in sports. It performs with the wholesome zest of amateurs and with the artistic touch of the professionals.

The band is an integral part of the half-time shows which brighten each Redskins home game—smartly-paced presentations in which some of the brightest names in show business have participated. Tumblers, animal acts, toyland trains, tight-rope walkers, dancers, acrobats—all sorts of top acts from the entertainment world have performed in these "Redskins Revues."

Best of all is the Christmas Show, annual feature of the last home game in which Santa Claus makes his "official" visit to The Nation's Capital. He has come by helicopter, trick auto, sled, and parachute.

The Redskins Marching Band has been playing at all home games and many road games since 1938. It has marched up Broadway at the head of 15,000 invading fans. It has entertained at games in Cleveland, Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York, Norfolk, and Pittsburgh.

Twice, it has played and drawn plaudits alongside Fred Waring, Paul Whiteman and the Philadelphia Philharmonic at The Philadelphia Inquirer's Music Festival. And it has represented The Nation's Capital in the big annual Lions' Club parade.

The band is composed of amateur musicians of all ages and occupations—mechanics, painters and plumbers; salesmen, printers, and sheet metal workers; law and medical students, electrical engineers and bookbinders. The organization is military-like. Each marching unit is under direct command of a Chief, who is responsible for his unit's attendance, ability and discipline. The Unit Chiefs are answerable to the Band Director.

The band has its own special arrangements of more than 250 songs, with each arrangement carefully tailored to 90 seconds so that it can fit snugly into time-outs on the field.

The band's drum majors have diagrams of scores of maneuvers, man by man, and step by step, and, in one rehearsal, can whip the band into any design from a shamrock to a Christmas tree.

Head Coach

Earl L. (Curly) Lambeau

EARL L. (Curly) LAMBEAU is the dean of major league football coaches and one of the founders of the National League. He boasts two matchless records.

1. This is his thirty-fifth consecutive season as a head coach in professional football;
2. He has produced six world championship teams.

Curly spent 31 of his coaching campaigns as head coach of the Green Bay Packers, a team he organized as a sandlot town team and developed into a national gridiron power. Under his direction, the Packers became one of the most imaginative and colorful athletic aggregations of all time. After leaving the Packers, he coached the Chicago Cardinals in 1950 and 1951. He joined the Redskins in August, 1952.

He has a lifetime coaching record of 247 victories against 134 losses for a .648 percentage.

His greatest season probably was the 1929 campaign when his world championship club went through 14 games without defeat—winning 13 and being held to a tie in one. That team scored eight shutouts and gave up only one touchdown to the opposition.

Through the years, Lambeau is rated by many football students as the foremost authority on forward pass offense and defense. He was one of the first—if not the first—coach to develop a daring pass attack that had his passers throwing from any part of the field—even from behind the goal line.

Lambeau was born in Green Bay, Wis., April 9, 1898. He entered the University of Notre Dame in the fall of 1918 and won the No. 1 varsity fullback position as a freshman. Making his debut as Notre Dame's head coach that season was the immortal Knute Rockne. One of Lambeau's halfback teammates was the blazing George Gipp.

Lambeau withdrew from college in 1919 and went to work as a shipping clerk for the Acme Packing Co. in his home town, Green Bay. The football desire was hot within him, however, and he organized a team. He persuaded the Acme people to provide $500 for the cost of the uniforms and in return he agreed to emblazon the word "Packers" on the jerseys.

He was both player and coach for 10 seasons before retiring to the sidelines in 1929. One job never was enough for Curly's bundle of energy, however, and he served as vice-president and general manager of the Packers until the end of 1949 when he left to coach the Cardinals.

At Green Bay, he won world championships in 1929, 1930, 1931, 1936, 1939, and 1944. He is the only coach ever to win three consecutive world titles.

Lambeau developed some of the greatest performers in professional football history—to name a few, Don Hutson, greatest pass receiver of all time; Cal Hubbard, all-time tackle; Clarke Hinkle, all-league fullback; Mike Michalske, Lon Evans and Russ Letlow, all-league guards; Cecil Isbell and Arnie Herber, two all-time great passers; and Johnny Blood, all-around star.

In the off-season, Lambeau is a rancher at Thousand Oaks, Calif.

Assistant Coaches

Line Coach — Larry Siemering

LARRY SIEMERING, who played center on the Boston Redskins, is one of the greatest linemen in West Coast history. He played at University of San Francisco on the same team with Jim Barber, one of the Redskins' all-time great tackles, and was a 58-minute man in both the 1935 East-West Shrine game and the Chicago Tribune All-Star game.

As head coach at College of Pacific, Siemering won 35 and lost only five games in four years. But, more important, he discovered and developed Eddie LeBaron.

Siemering, after playing on the Eastern Championship Redskins in 1936, began his coaching career at Manteca (Calif.) High in 1937. At Manteca and Stockton High, he won 41 consecutive games. In 1947, he succeeded Amos Alonzo Stagg at COP. He left COP in 1951 to coach Arizona State at Tempe. He was in private business last year. He is married and lives in Stockton, Calif.

Backfield Coach — Bill Dudley

WILLIAM A. (Bullet Bill) DUDLEY is one of the all-time greats of football. Without question, he is the best all-around halfback in the NFL's 34-year history—the only player to lead in both ground offense and air defense in the same campaign (1946).

Dudley caught passes and threw them; carried the ball and blocked; kicked off and received kickoffs; punted and received punts. He was a 60-second competitor every minute.

The Redskins' backfield coach played three years with the Pittsburgh Steelers, three with the Detroit Lions and two with the Redskins. He retired last season to help coach Yale University's backfield. In his eight years as full-time player, Dudley scored 426 points; gained 3,041 yards; and caught 123 passes for 1,383 yards. He intercepted 23 passes for 459 yards, returned 115 punts for 1,485 yards, and received 78 kickoffs for 1,743 yards.

He was born in Bluefield, Va., on Christmas Eve, 1921. At University of Virginia, he was unanimous All-America in 1941 when he set a collegiate scoring record of 134 points. The next year he was with the Steelers and led the league in rushing. After three years as a B-29 pilot, Dudley again led the league in rushing in 1946—the same year that he led in pass interceptions with a record total of 242 yards runback.

Dudley is married and has a son and daughter. He lives in Lynchburg, Va.

Assistant Coach — Herman Ball

HERMAN BALL has been associated with the Redskins for a full decade, serving as game scout, talent scout and coach. He was born in Elkins, W. Va., and attended Davis-Elkins College. Ball served as assistant coach at University of Maryland under Dr. Clarence W. Spears (1943-44), Paul Bryant (1945), and Clark Shaughnessy (1946).

While at Maryland, he began scouting for the Redskins in 1944.

Ball is married to the former Edna Staniforth of Cumberland, Md. They live in Hyattsville.
